RAT ROW BURNS

Early Morning Fire Threatens Large Section of Town Along With Tarbox Lumber Co. Plant—Fire Originated in Edward Canady's Rooms and Was Under Headway When Discovered.

Residents were called out at 2:45 Thursday morning to fight an ugly fire driven by a high south wind that threatened a large part of the section of town between the railroad and the creek east of Main street.

The fire originated in what has for years been known as "Rat Row," a section largely populated by colored people. Three double houses owned by the Tarbox Lumber Co. and one by W. P. Townsley were either burned to the ground or damaged almost beyond repair.

The fire is said to have been discovered by Sallie Baker, colored, who resided in the Townsley property next to the rooms occupied by Canady. The aged colored man was found asleep on his bed and it was by the hardest effort that his life was saved as his bed was on fire at the time.

The high wind made the fire one of the most dangerous ones ever known in years but as luck would have it, it stayed in one place long enough for the men to confine their efforts on adjoining property and let the others burn. No water was thrown on the Townsley house or the two double houses until after they had fallen. It took the entire strength of the department to save the other property.

The old hand engine was taken out and placed at the hotel across but was not used. The water at the Bird stream gave out and the engine moved to the eastern side of the house.

The Tarbox Lumber Company purchased the Rat Row property just last spring more as a protection to the company property across the street. The houses have been the scene of many a fire of small extent but the one Thursday morning will likely be the last chapter of a history of crime from petty thievery to murder that has been harbored in that property.

Mr. W. J. Tarbox, the president of the company is in Texas, and the extent of the loss is not known although those in position to know say there is some insurance.

The burning of the buildings will make a number of families homeless as property that is open to them is not easily found.

CAMPAIGN FOR DRYS OPENS IN OPERA HOUSE

The opening of the county campaign for the drys took place in the opera house Wednesday evening. It had been announced that Fred Bale, would be the speaker of the evening but by a confusion in dates it was necessary to send George A. Henry, who heads the industrial work in connection with the anti-saloon league.

Mr. Henry is a good speaker and his message was confined to the effect of booze to industry, especially the miners and steel workers. Prices of materials are largely affected by the failure of men to perform their task after having been under the influence of liquor. His experience in Illinois with the miners made an interesting story.

The S. of V. band furnished the music for the crowd. Mr. S. C. Wright of the local committee was chairman of the meeting.

LOCAL FISHING EXCURSION.

Messrs. George Little, Charles Marshall, William Hopping, Dr. Leo Anderson and Ralph Wolford journeyed to the reservoir Saturday where the party enjoyed several days fishing.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Parent-Teachers association met Friday afternoon, October 12, for their regular monthly meeting. At the meeting in September, Mrs. Ray McKee was elected president, Professor L. D. Parker, vice president, Miss Ethel Edwards, secretary and Mrs. I. C. Davis, treasurer. Mrs. McKee offered her resignation at the October meeting, which was accepted and Mrs. T. N. Tarbox was then chosen president. The regular business was attended to, committees reported. The clock committee which was appointed in September, reported that a clock for the hall would cost $20. The clock will be purchased and placed in the hall down stairs.

A point was offered to the room having the greatest number of mothers out to the meeting. Room No. 4, taught by Miss Hoover, received the honor this month. The point will be given each month and by this method the association hopes to get a large number of the mothers interested.

Mrs. Tarbox has named the following committees:

Program Committee. Mrs. O. L. Smith, chairman. Mrs. J. H. Fortney. Mrs. J. C. Davis. Mrs. J. E. Mitchell. Finance Committee. Mrs. Edwin Kyle, chairman. Mrs. E. C. Oglesby. Mrs. Stewart Townsley. Mrs. W. C. Cliff. Mrs. Gordon Collins. Mrs. William Marshall. Social Committee. Mrs. Elizabeth Sterritt, chairman. Mrs. G. H. Smith. Mrs. J. E. McMichael. Mrs. J. C. Davis. Mrs. Flora McLean. Mrs. Aden Barlow. Line of Work Committee. Mrs. Alva Ford, chairman. Mrs. Jay Auld. Mrs. William McCoy. Mrs. W. W. Creswell. Miss Elizabeth Blair. Press Committee. Mrs. S. C. Wright, chairman.

The November meeting will be held the second Friday, November 9. All the parents who are interested in the welfare of their children should attend these meetings and help the officers and committees by their suggestions and encourage them by their presence.

WAR CAMP NOTES.

A reward of $50 is offered by the government that delivers any deserter to the nearest army camp.

Two bad accidents occurred at the Fairfield camp Monday. Frank Amies while several thousand feet in the air attempted a tailspin and lost his equilibrium the machine landing nose first. Amies had every bone in his limbs broken as well as internal injuries which resulted in his death. Lieutenant Sanford who was in the machine with Amies escaped with but slight injury. Another machine fell later in the day and when it struck took fire burning the hands and faces of the men in charge. These are the siding the number of machines that been very few.

The soldiers over at Camp Sherman claim that it was the draft that put the "chill" in Chillicothe.

The war department has decided to build a library at Camp Sherman that will be 40 x 120 ft. and will be under the direction of the American Library Association.

In speaking of Liberty bond subscriptions we must not overlook Henry Ford's subscription of five million for himself and another five million for his company.

Selects at Camp Sherman to the number of more than 8000 have already subscribed for more than half a million of the Liberty bonds. It is expected that the subscriptions before the end of the week will total a million. We hear that our local boys in camp have all made liberal subscriptions. It is a patriotic move for the boys enlisted in the nation's defense to lend their own money to the Sergeant Cameron Ross is laid up at Camp Sherman with a bruised knee received last week while in the practice of foot ball. It is said that he was sent to him to enable him to get about.

Among the local boys home Sabbath were Corporals A. B. Creswell and Frank Schroeder and Robert Allen.

It is said that the selectees are being rounded in good shape and old army officers have been surprised as to the quickness in which the Camp Sherman men have acquired military training. In drill, on the hike or dress parade the men have taken hold of the work with a will that has brought praise from the officers. No such praise could be given without Cedarville having a share in it and Company F, of the 380th, in which most of our boys are, is said to stand first with any other company of conscripts at the big camp.

Mr. W. D. Sterritt, who is teaching school at Greenville, Ohio, and was drafted, has been exempted.

THE NEW WAR WORD.

Many times recently people have seen a new word in use and were not able to find it in the dictionary. The new war word is "camouflage" and it means the art of making things disappear or whatever might be necessary to deceive the enemy. It is said that the French have caused the Germans to waste great quantities of ammunition where camouflage was used. The Germans were made to believe that great guns were hidden behind this or that shrubbery when in reality there was nothing there at all. In general use the word in the country is used where deception is desired.

THE ARMY OFFICER CORPS.
The United States army has passed through three periods of transformation since the close of the war between the states in 1865. It is in the fourth stage now and its strongest element is the officers' corps.

A Good Host of Leaders Born and Trained to Martial Carriage.

mentally small, but what there is of it is good for service, good for instructors. After 1865 the regular army received back, at lower grade, of course, officers from the firing line in scores and hundreds. From the ranks men dropped out rapidly, but their places were filled by soldiers in love with the calling. By the hundreds cadets came from West Point to serve under veteran officers with veteran troops. The ranks of line officers were also filled with good material from the volunteer service and this newly infused establishment subdued and civilized the most vicious Indian tribes in our history. Here were engaged Sherman and Sheridan, Crook, Gibbon, Howard, Canby, Custer, McCook and scores like them. These passed on, giving way to majors and colonels bred in the great campaigns of the sixties. New standards were fixed for enlisted men and 1895 found a new army led by officers in their later prime who had begun as schoolboys—Shafter, Chaffee, Young, dates, Sumner, Kent, Lawton and that stamp. These men tutored the new cadets through the Spanish and Philippine wars, and they are the majors, colonels and generals of today, trained in the best of schools, campaign experience. What is more, the majority are sons (or grandsons) of officers of north and south who led in the sixties, born soldiers. The army register of 1917 reads like the index of an old war history in respect of officers' names. Few are the big names that are not represented now in important rank, good leaders all, given an army and a foe. (Captain) GEORGE L. KILMER.

AUTUMN'S MURS.

Seven moleskin in voluminous stole and a melon unit here adds the chic to a battleship gray suit of broadcloth. The stole fastens carelessly with satin ribbon tie-ends in a big bow front.

DELECTABLE SILMOUETTE.

On a boat shaped turban arise two sails of the same material, black panne velvet, mounted with a beaded fancy which is made up in the oriental colors so popular just now. This is a durable hat as well as a modish one.

FALL TIPS.

A youthful sash tied at the back of the slightly raised waist line is one advance fad. Lines are straighter, waist lines more fitted. Large, cravie collars and pockets persist, as do the rippling shoulder capes falling from beneath the big collars. Some pockets show only vertical slits. Skirts are not too short, and a military touch here and there is never a mistake. There are many colors which will do, not to speak of the over good black and navy. They include myrtle and balsam among the greens, bay leaf and fox, Java brown, taupe and plum colors. As for materials, duvety, velours and broad cloths are among the best.

Shortweighting the Taxpayer

The Truth About Taxes

Every year the saloons of Ohio pay $3,462,000 to the State, and those who refused to think for themselves were led to believe that if Ohio went dry the loss of this license money would make their taxes higher.

Nowhere in any industry has the taxpayer been so completely short-weighted as by the liquor business.

When you think of the six million dollars that the saloons pay to the State you must also consider what the saloons cost the State, and if you will look to those states that have adopted Prohibition, you will find the claim of the liquor interests that the saloons lower taxes, is an exploded theory.

Kansas, without liquor revenue for many years, is free from debt.

West Virginia, during her three dry years has reduced her state tax rate from 14c to 9c.

Right here in Ohio the big wet centers with their high tax rates and heavy indebtedness haven't money enough to pay running expenses.

While the city of Findlay, with all her civic improvements, without saloons for eight years, has the lowest tax rate of any city in the State.

The auditor of the State of Ohio in his annual report for the year ending June 30, 1916, recognized the fact that taxes paid by the liquor interests do not meet the public expenses they cause.

He says in his official report: "The saloon tax is to cover the expenses of regulating the traffic and to meet as far as possible the maintenance of those who become public charges as the result of intoxicating liquor."

"These are local matters and the expense necessarily has to be met by the local sub-division where the saloons are located."

"Why should the state rob these communities that need every cent of this license tax?"

More than all the money received by the State or by the City or by the County from the saloon tax is used to take care of its victims. So that this license money does not reduce taxes, but the destructive influences of the saloons increase them. And in addition to all this, wreck the lives of thousands of men, women and children every year.

The man who votes wet to save taxes is being fooled. He is being robbed of a greater amount than he saves, and he is harming himself and every other resident of his State. Vote for lower taxes.

Vote for the elimination of an industry which is only partly paying the actual cost of restoring the damage it does.

CHICAGO IN ITS YOUTH.

It Got One Weekly Mail, by Horseback, From the East in 1832.

Extracts from the first city directory of Chicago show, for the most part, a feeling of satisfaction in the compiler. The directory appeared in 1834. "Our common schools," he writes, "are worthy of special notice." Regarding entertainment for the stranger within the gates, he is able to note definite improvement. Whereas, "In early times our inns were miserable in the extreme," now "we have eighteen hotels and houses of public entertainment, many of them large and splendid establishments, not inferior to any in the west."

He hazards a prophecy which has been more than fulfilled when he says: "We have four large packing houses, and all of them have done a heavy business thus far. The pork packing is only just commencing, but will, it is thought, be extensive."

The progress that had been made in postal facilities is shown by this record: "A weekly mail from the east was received here on horseback in 1832. The next year it was received in a one horse wagon weekly. In 1833 a two horse wagon was substituted. In 1834 a four horse stage line was established semi-weekly; in 1835, in 1837 there was a daily eastern mail. There are now received and made up at this office forty-eight mails weekly, and the receipts of the office amount to about $10,000."

In one or two respects the narrator cannot speak so cheerfully. He is compelled to acknowledge a debt of $8,977.25. He adds, however, that "the credit of the city is now established upon a permanent foundation and cannot easily be shaken." But for the stage he sees no immediate hope. This is his plaint: "Our theater—a very pretty one—has been in operation the past season and met with some encouragement, but it must be confessed that at present the prospects of the drama are not flattering."

The Argan Tree.

Among the most remarkable trees of the world is the argan, which abounds in southern Morocco, but is seldom seen elsewhere. A "forest" of argans has a curious scattered appearance because the trees grow singly and far apart. They are very leafy, but seldom exceed twenty feet in height. The branches put out horizontally and begin a yard above the ground. Sheep, cattle and camels feed on the leaves, and goats will stand on their hind legs to reach them, but horses and mules refuse to touch them. The wood is very hard and extremely useful to natives, who make charcoal from it. The fruit, resembling a large olive, is used to feed cattle and to manufacture a valuable oil.

Bedlam.

How many people use the expression "a regular bedlam," without knowing bedlam's "where or what?" Bedlam was the popular corruption of Bethlehem, the name of an insane asylum in London, first established in 1532. Owing to the prevalent ignorance of that age, it was a place of chains and manacles and stocks and finally became, so filthy and loathsome that no man could enter it. It was rebuilt several times, but even as late as 1812 the institution was marked by its cruelty to inmates. The poor lunatics were chained and fogged at certain stages of the moon's age.

Jerusalem Artichoke.

The Jerusalem artichoke, which was known in English gardens before the potato, was imported to Europe 300 years ago. The plant is not an artichoke at all. It was merely so dubbed because its flavor was thought to be like that of the globe artichoke. It is a native of tropical America, not of Palestine, although by a culinary joke "Palestine soup" is made from Jerusalem artichokes. "Jerusalem" is merely a corruption of the Italian "girasole," or sunflower.

When the Raven Was Milk White.

According to Mohammedan belief, the ravens which Noah took with him on the ark were both pure white. When the ark had been riding the billows of the flood for thirty-three days one of the giraffes died, and the carcass was thrown overboard. No sooner had it struck the water than the ravens pounced upon it. For this Noah cursed them, and since that day they have been coal black.

Life's Battle.

How, in this wild universe, which storms in on him, infinite, vague, menacing, shall poor man find, say not happiness, but existence and footing to stand upon, if it be not by girding himself together for continuous endeavor and endurance? Woe, it is in his heart there dwelt no fervent faith, if the word "duty" had lost its meaning for him—Elyria.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 21

THE TEMPLE REBUILT AND DEDICATED.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 23:1-12; 24:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise.—Psalm 100:5.

The remnant which returned had now become settled in their new homes. As it would be a considerable time before the temple could be rebuilt, arrangement was made for the religious life as early as possible, as religion was the very heart of the nation's life. They first set up the altar of the God of Israel (3:1-3) and offered burnt offerings thereon. They next revived the annual festivals (3:4-7) which had powerful, unifying influence upon them.

I. The Appointment of Officers to Set Forward the Work of the Lord's House (v. 8, 9). Overseers were needed to direct this great work. Rubbish needed to be cleared away so the building operations could begin; timber needed to be cut in the Lebanon forests and floated down to Joppa; stones needed to be cut from the quarries; intelligent and consecrated men were needed to direct this work, as it was a task that it be done with the utmost expedition. The Lord's house demands the most systematic adjustment of its labors. Mere zeal will not make up for lack of intelligence.

II. The Foundation of the Temple Laid (3:10-13). This was done amid great rejoicing. The consciousness that the Lord's house was taking shape, even though the mere foundations could be seen, provoked great enthusiasm on the part of the people. Musicians were appointed to furnish music while the work was being done. Under the influence of music men will do better work, armies will march and fight better when bands are playing. While there was great joy, there was also, mingled sorrow. This was on the part of the elders who had seen the former temple. The meanness of the present temple in comparison with Solomon's temple caused their praise to be drowned with their sorrow. These people belonged to that class who think that nothing now is so good as in the former days. So completely were these voices commingled that the people could not discern the one from the other.

III. The Building of the Temple Delayed by Opposition (Chapters 4 and 5). For a time matters went smoothly with them, but as soon as the work had taken such shape as to show that there was some prospect of success, the half-heathen Samaritans began to oppose them. No vital work of God will be allowed to go on without opposition. Satan resents and bitterly opposes all inroads upon his kingdom. These Samaritans sought to frustrate this work of God by:

(1) An Alliance With the Jews (4:2, 3). They wanted to bring the work in harmony with their own religious practices, as God's pure worship would be a constant rebuke to them. This is ever the way of the world, to seek to effect a compromise with God's children; but God's call is separation. "Come out from among them" (2 Cor. 6:14-18). Nothing so weakens God's cause as worldly alliance and compromise. There is but one answer to be given to such an offer of compromise. "Ye have nothing to do with us in building a house unto our God." We are in the world, but not of the world.

(2) Weakening the Hands of the People (4:4). Doubtless this included the withdrawal of supplies, the spreading of dissension among the workmen, and the employment of counselors against them.

(3) Letters of Accusation to the Persian King (4:8, 7). So severe was this opposition that the building was delayed for a term of years. These counselors succeeded in creating doubt as to whether Cyrus had ever issued a decree for their return. This wicked opposition resulted in the undoing of the opposers, for search was made and a copy was found. Darius confirmed this by his own decree, and directed that aid be given from the royal treasury so that the house of God might be built.

IV. The Temple Completed and Dedicated (5:14-18). The Prophets Haggai and Zechariah now appear, and by warnings, exhortations and entreaties stir up the people so that the work goes forward to a successful completion. Without their aid probably the work would never have been completed. Human nature at times needs to be cheered and urged forward. These prophets did not themselves work in the building of the walls, yet their work was of even greater importance. It is generally found that this is so with the religious leaders today. The words of cheer and encouragement of the Christian minister are needed daily for those who labor in the building of the Lord's house. Were it not for them many would give up the struggle. When the building was finished it was dedicated to God with great joy. This was possible because they had labored and finished their task according to the commandment of the God of Israel. The service of dedication was much after the order of that of Solomon's temple, only on a less magnificent scale.

Robert Carey, 71, well known attorney, died at his home in Upper Sandusky. Mr. Carey had served Upper Sandusky as superintendent of public schools and as mayor.

An automobile containing a party of young people turned over into a ditch near Nelsonville. Miss Freeda Shaw, 20, was caught under the machine and fatally hurt.

Home of Appena Judge Lewis B. Houck at Mt. Vernon was burglarized and more than $1,200 worth of jewelry taken. The judge's winter overcoat was also carried away.

J. Homer Hemphill, Dayton, told his aunt he was sick and didn't think "he would last the day out" when she called him to breakfast. He was found dead a few minutes later.

Dr. Francis Wilson and his wife, arrested at Vermillion, were taken to Sandusky to answer a charge of arson. They are accused of having fired their home to get the insurance.

Harry Wolosanski, Lorain, was one of the National Tube company workers exempted on the plea of the company. He didn't like that, so quit his job and took his turn with the conscripts.

At Delafontaine Miss Ethel Strayer, 22, of DeGraff, probably was fatally injured, and her father, Jacob Strayer, suffered a broken collar bone when their automobile was struck by a Big Four train.

At Newark the German Express suspended publication. Julius Juch, editor, said he could not operate at a profit and comply with the federal law requiring English translation of matter printed.

Arthur Keeloy, 40, saloonist at San-toy, Perry county, was shot and killed in his saloon by John Shebold, 35, coal miner, when he refused to sell Shebold a drink while he was accompanied by a small boy.

State liquor commission announced the following appointment of Democratic liquor licensees: For Fairfield county, James Zink; for Marion county, E. J. Shoemaker; for Washington county, P. J. Quinlan.

Charged with killing his wife with a hammer while she lay in her bed, John Nashack, 59, went to trial at Cleveland on a first degree murder charge. Police declare Nashack confessed he believed he was doing a humane thing in killing his wife, who had been ill.

ANOTHER REGISTRATION AFTER THE FIRST OF YEAR

Representative Kahan of California, one of the foremost members of Congress on the Republican side, has prepared amendments to the draft law that will if passed by congress which convenes in December, cause another registration of all males from 18 to 40 years of age. The large number of men exempted for various causes makes this necessary. Another provision is that all men so drafted and accepted must be in active service in the army along with those who have become 21 since the last draft, before those of the new registration will be called.

HENRY DISTURBS SERVICE OF TELEPHONE PATRONS

Charles Holloway had an unusual experience Tuesday night when his Ford car left the road near J. C. Townsley's residence and landed at the side of the road. The incident was not without injury to the car although Mr. Holloway escaped without a scratch. The telephone company suffered some damage in a broken pole and twisted lines which for a time put most of the telephones in that section out of commission.

XENIA COAL SHORTAGE.

Xenia along with hundreds of other cities and towns has had a coal shortage and as a result two cars of coal were confiscated by the mayor and city engineer. The coal had been billed to Beldon & Sons, but it was turned over to other dealers for quick delivery among people that were without fuel during the cold spell. The later firm brought an injunction suit in Common Pleas court to protect those customers who had placed orders previous to shipment.

FOOD TO BE CHIEF TOPIC AT DAIRY SHOW OCT. 18-27

Ohio Capital Will Be Scene of Agricultural Exposition.

CONSUMER IS INTERESTED

Displays and Demonstrations Designed to Increase Production and to Aid in Food Conservation to Be Shown.

When the doors of the 1917 National Dairy show are thrown open at Columbus, O., October 18, the world will be given a glimpse of the most valuable agricultural and industrial exposition held this year.

The principal mission of the show at this time is to aid in eliminating waste and extravagance from a business that supplies the United States and other nations with dairy food. With this in mind, the management has selected with painstaking care hundreds of exhibits and demonstrations, designed to answer some of the big problems in food production and conservation.

During the 10 days the show will be open, special attention, of course, will be given dairy animals, dairy products and dairy machinery, but other attractions have been added on a scale equalled only at world fairs and the like. There will be a horse fair with some of the best animals of all classes on exhibition, an up-to-the-minute automobile show, and a huge display of tractors and other farm machinery.

Methods of Feeding.
The best methods of feeding to establish greater milk production will be demonstrated on a herd of 2,000 prize dairy cattle. Every phase of advancement along this line will be shown. New ideas and discoveries will be explained.

Life-sized plants, used in the production of dairy products, will be found in full operation in the exhibit halls, together with a long list of dairy appliances too numerous to mention. In this brief space the most efficient methods of manufacturing dairy products will be demonstrated by experts. Actual manufacture of such products as butter, cheese and ice cream and the pasteurizing of milk will be features of the exhibits.

But the show is not being arranged entirely for the producer and the manufacturer. The pocketbook of the consumer has been taken into consideration, the high cost of living having directed attention to that article. The city man who is not in any way allied with the dairy business or the farm will find much of interest to him, for the consumer will be shown the most economical methods of preparing and using dairy products. He will also be told how milk and cheese can take the place of meat on his daily menu.

Government Display.
"The 1917 National Dairy show," W. B. Skinner, its manager, declares, "will embody in one exposition the greatest inspirational, educational and entertaining features of the dairy business. It will be attended by the leading dairy experts of the United States, department of agriculture, dairy farmers, machinery makers, dairy manufacturers and creamery men. Every one interested in food and the dairy industry should attend."

The display which the United States government will show will cost $25,000 to install at the Columbus fair grounds. Other interesting educational features will be the displays of the leading agricultural colleges, with their research laboratories and other scientific equipment which farmers have come to regard as a necessity in present day farming.

A domestic science school will be conducted on the grounds with experts in charge.

WILL DISCUSS MARKETING

Producers, Distributors and Consumers of Dairy Products to Hold Conference at National Dairy Show.

Marketing of dairy products, a question that has agitated many communities recently, will be discussed at a conference to be held in connection with the 1917 National Dairy show at Columbus, October 23. The program for the conference is being arranged by the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture. Producers, distributors and consumers will take part.

On the day preceding the conference there will be a mass meeting of the American Dairy Industries, at which business men will discuss with dairy men the importance of producing dairy products.

FIRST DAIRY EXHIBIT ARRIVES.

A herd of cattle, consisting of a bull, valued at $12,000, two cows and three calves, is quarantined in Columbus, O., awaiting the opening, October 18, of the National Dairy show. The exhibit came from the farm of Walter C. and William R. Rush of Benson, Vt., and was the first entry in the cattle section to arrive.
